JCP CARES organizing food drive

Neighbors: Northwest

By Katie Lay | More by this reporter | Northwest News | Posted: Tuesday, November 3, 2009 ; Updated: 12:47 AM on Tuesday, November 3, 2009

Kathy Bravo, founder and president of JCP CARES (Community Active Residents Engaged in Service), announces that the organization is in partnership with the Doctors Village Farmers Market to collect donations of nonperishable food for those in need. This is part of JCP CARES' fourth-quarter initiative for 2009 -- a large food drive to benefit Christ's Cupboard Food Pantry at Celebration Lutheran Church, 810 Roberts Road.

The food drive will take place throughout November in Julington Creek Plantation and in conjunction with several northwest area schools. Those interested in making contributions are encouraged to consider specials being offered by local grocery stores.

"Think of the traditional 'buy one, get one' as 'buy one, give one,'" Kathy said. "This allows you to help others in need for free."
